DETAILED ACTION

Allowable Subject Matter

1. Claims 1-15 and 18-25 renumbered as 1-23 are allowed.
2. The following is a statement of reasons for the indication of allowable subject matter:
3. All Independent claims recite the limitation “wherein said first and second pipeline stages are separated by at least three pipeline stages”. The prior art does not teach or fairly suggest separating said first pipeline stage (stage in which a miss of an address of the branch instruction occurs in the BTAC and one of said ways is specified for storing the a target address of the branch instruction) and said second pipeline stage (stage in which a resolved target address of the branch instruction is written into the BTAC) by at least three pipeline stages combined with other limitations recited in allowable claims. Further, the claims limit the invention to tangible embodiments. Claim 24 (renumbered 22) recites the limitation “A program embodied on a computer readable medium”. As Applicant’s specification shows (paragraph 0143), a “computer readable medium” is limited to statutory tangible embodiments, which is clearly distinct from a “computer readable transmission medium” which is limited to non-statutory intangible embodiments. This distinction is further evidenced by the amendment made to claim 24 (renumbered 22).

Response to Arguments

4. Applicant's arguments, see remarks, filed 2 June 2006, with respect to rejections under 35 U.S.C. 101 and allowable subject matter have been fully considered and are persuasive. The rejections of 1-16 and 18-24 have been withdrawn.

Conclusion
